FRRC Executive Director Desmond Meade Issues Donor Thanks Outreach Statement

As more people hear about FRRC's efforts in Florida, more of them join our collective efforts to create a more inclusive Democracy in our state.

For more than two years, FRRC has received support from every county in Florida and every corner of this country -- from small towns and big cities, from progressives and conservatives, from every walk of life -- all helping to make sure returning citizens are eligible to vote in Florida.

So, we thank each and every one of the 44,000 (and growing) individuals from across Florida and from all 50 states (and territories) who have donated to our Fines & Fees Program.

Since the passage of Amendment 4 in 2018, this grassroots movement has been, and always will be, about people over politics. It's not about a particular donor, it's not about a particular party.

It's about people.

Our work is squarely centered on the 1.4M returning citizens in Florida, and restoring their rights and so that they can participate fully in our Democracy. And we appreciate each and every single donation that helps us achieve that objective.

This has, and always will be, about freeing the vote for everyone in Florida, no matter who they vote for.
